

TULISAN 1

SUSUNAN WAKTU^M / URUTAN WAKTU^I Chronological Order

When we write a paragraph or essay in chronological order we arrange events in a particular time sequence.

The specific utterances and terms for chronological order are presented in two groups. In the first group are terms which are used to order biographical or autobiographical information about others or yourself. In the second are more general terms and utterances which may be used to relate a historical sequence of events, or a set of instructions indicating the order in which something should be done. The exercises accompanying this section deal with each of these uses.
