

TULISAN 12

PENYANGKALAN DAN ADUAN

Refutation and Complaint

When we refute someone's opinion, we present ideas counter to that opinion with the aim of proving it wrong. We then support our own views or opinions with a set of examples or facts. Refer to Section 7 for more detail on the writing of opinion.

The writing of complaints is a related exercise. We look at a particular service, product or type of behaviour and attempt to show why it is unacceptable. We do this by showing the negative consequences produced which the person or company may or may not be aware of.
